

Where in the World is Michael Bard's Chicken?

An Extraordinary Contest

Michael Bard's famous rubber chicken has been known to "fly the coop" and travel around the world, generally without saying goodbye to Michael. Recently Chicken has been spotted in some rather exotic locales. While away s/he kept sending Michael photos as where-am-I hints. We've turned the game into a contest.

Can you name the countries Chicken visited? If you come up with the most correct answers, you will win a fabulous, unique, one-of-a-kind Michael Bard's chicken T-shirt, customized for your size. (If there's a tie, the lucky winner will be drawn by ballot.)

To enter, send an email to me at robert@sutherland-chan.com listing your answers numbered 1-6 to match the photos. Each answer should be a country name.

Deadline is February 28!
